Dogs on Owner's Land Safe From Catchers

Health Board Modifies Regulation; Officers May Still Pursue Strays

RULE MET CRITICISM

Lower Merion Board of Health, at its April meeting modified township quarantine regulations authorizing dog catchers to invade property to seize dogs.

The resolution adopted, it is understood, applies only to the seizing of owner's dogs on their premises and would not prohibit dog catchers from pursuing stray animals on private property.

Police have already been instructed to conform to the new resolution in their dog catching activities.

The regulation permitting the invasion of owners' premises to seize their dogs has met severe criticism from dog owners since it was first enacted.

At present two legal suits are pending which were expected to take the objections of the dog owners to Montgomery County Court for a judicial settlement.

One deals directly with the question of seizing dogs on owner's premises. If the case goes to court the complainant will be Mrs. Natalie Tyson, Rose lane, Haverford. Walter B. Faries, Cynwyd, is her attorney.

This suit, with another case charging a Lower Merion employed dog catcher with assault and battery on a West Manayunk resident, were scheduled to have been filed last Friday for hearing.

After consultation with the Montgomery County legal representative of the township, Franklin L. Wright, however, Faries decided to hold the filing of the two cases in abeyance. Attorney Wright asked for the delay until he had an opportunity to consult with Lower Merion commissioners on the subject of modification of the dog quarantine.

Permission was granted to Maurice J. Lacey, of 105 Rockland avenue, to change the East garage at 131 Haverford avenue, Narberth, into a show room for plumbing and heating goods by the Narberth Board of Adjustment Tuesday night.

Rotary Club Elects 'Tod' Esrey President

Rev. A. E. Anderson Tells Members of Central America's Problems

W. J. DRENNAN VICE-PRES.

The Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club elected a full set of officers for the year beginning July 1, and learned a lot about Guatemala at the regular meeting Tuesday. The speaker, Rev. Archer E. Anderson, new pastor of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, was for eight years a missionary in the Central American republic.

Alexander J. "Tod" Esrey, present vice-president of the club, will be its new leader. W. James Drennan was elected vice-president; Dr. F. Munro Purse, secretary; Hervey C. Keim, treasurer, and William S. Howard, Sergeant-at-arms. James P. Carroll, retiring president, will become a member of the board of directors, together with William H. Durbin and Dr. Richard C. Mears.

The club's new president is a graduate of Swarthmore College, class of 1923, where he was captain of the baseball team in his senior year.

He has been connected with the Diamond State and Bell Telephone Companies since graduation from college, in Philadelphia and Wilmington. He came to the Main Line in 1931 and is now district traffic superintendent.

Mr. Esrey, who is married and the father of two sons, lives at 1609 Greenway road, Brookline.

Mr. Anderson gave a splendid review of the history of Guatemala from the days of the Indians and Spanish conquistadores. He dwelt on the peonage system, which is practical slavery and pointed out the religious basis of many political conflicts.

Mr. Anderson criticised dollar diplomacy in our treatment of Spanish-American sister republics. Fiercely proud of their nations and traditions, these neighbors want to be regarded as equal sister republics, the speaker said.

Proclaim "Perfect Play Perfectly Done"

Judge Holland Calls Player's "Goodby Again" O. K. for Broadway

ADDS HOPE TO DRAMA

Reviewed by J. Burnett Holland

Any one who missed seeing the Narberth Players in their performance of Allan Scott and George Haight's play, "Goodby Again," May 1 and 2, at the Narberth School, lost several opportunities that may not recur

First, we could dismiss the play itself with one of more of the Americanisms — "It was 'a scream,' 'a screech,' 'a wow,' 'a knockout,'" and on and on; but we should return to real English long enough to say that it was a model of perfection in its dramatic material. It is one of those plays that has everything—perfect continuity, situations, plausibility, delicious satire and, a laugh in every line without being forced.

The important feature, however, was not so much the play, but rather how it was done. It was nothing short of amazing if not incredible that an amateur group could have produced

Concert Monday Will Help Send Lower Merion Band To Cleveland

The concert to be given Monday night to raise funds to send the Lower Merion High School Band, State champions, to the national school band contest at Cleveland, will be held outdoors at Pennypacker Field, weather permitting.

This was announced today by Bruce C. Beach, director of the band and head of the instrumental music department of the school.

The unusual response to the ticket sale for the concert made the change in plans necessary, Mr. Beach said.

There is a seating capacity of 4,000 in the grandstand at the field and, judging from present indications, almost every seat will be taken. In case of rain the concert will be held in the Junior High auditorium.

The band and other musical organizations of the school will participate in the concert, making a total of nearly 200 performers.

An amplifying system will be available, if needed.

Reservations have been made with the Pennsylvania Railroad for the trip to Cleveland on May 14. Residents of the community who are interested in accompanying the band may do so on the same train and at the special rate given the musicians.

Information as to the railroad fare and other details will be supplied by George H. Gilbert, principal of the Senior High School.

Approximately $2,000 is needed to cover the expenses of the band for the trip. Parents of boys in the organization are putting up $600 and school organizations are donating $400 from their treasuries.

Groups making contributions include the Boys' Hi-Y, Dramatic Club, Girls' Hi-Y, Athletic Association and similar organizations.

The Cleveland contest, to be held May 15 and 16, will take place in the Convention Hall, to be the scene in June of the Republican National Convention. About 30 schools will compete.

The campaign to raise funds to

Before entering the ministry Mr. Anderson, as well as his wife, were missionaries in Central America for eight years. Mr. Anderson also served as pastor in Fort Worth and Cleburne, Tex., having come to Narberth from the latter city.

Three charming daughters also grace the Anderson home. They are Edwina, aged 1½ years; Frances, 6, and Lillian, 8.

Girl Scout News

The first few weeks of spring are full of activities which are of special interest to Girl Scouts. National Better Homes Week is naturally one of vital interest; a large percentage of the proficiency badges are devoted to pursuits involving the management of the homes. In the Philadelphia area the most popular badges were First Aid, Hostess, Cook and Home Nurse. These badges have a very important place in the Girl Scout program; some of the best known are Dressmaker, Canner, First Aid, Hostess, Homemaker, Home Nurse, Housekeeper, Needlewoman and last but not least—Cook. The Girl Scouts are now custodians of the "Better Homes" model house in Washington which serves as the National Little House.

Child Health Day, May 1, comes in the midst of Better Homes Week and Youth Week and is coincident with some of the most important phases of the Girl Scout program — health through happiness, play in the open, cultivation of personal habits of cleanliness. The most popular single badge awarded throughout the United States was the Health Winner—14,678 were earned by Girl Scouts in 1935.

National Music Week gives the girls an opportunity to show activity with badges for proficiency as bugler, drummer, minstrel, musician and in an allied art dancer.

Mother's Day is usually a very happy day when celebrated with the typical Girl Scout as a daughter.

The girls of Narberth Troop 125 opened their meeting by taking a short observation walk. This was to help the girls with their nature contest. When they came back from their walk patrol corners was held. The girls divided into special study groups. They played several games of which were Riggidy Jig, Mr. Rabbit and a bean bag game. Goodnight Circle closed a successful spring meeting.

Troop 8

The three troops of Narberth had as their guest Mrs. Connell, who spoke to them about health and personal appearance last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Connell, who is a nurse, stressed the point that good health is the foundation of beauty. The girls were glad to welcome Miss Melvin and the Troop Committee to the meeting and hope they will repeat their visit often.

During the latter part of the meeting Troop 8 practiced the program for their Court of Awards Ceremony to be held Tuesday evening, May 19. Several girls were assigned to different parts of the program and they will have their part ready for final rehearsal next Tuesday. For a short time the girls played a few lively games and then the meeting was closed with some songs and "Taps."

Flower Show Today

The annual spring flower show given by the Penn Valley Garden Club will be held this Friday at the Fairview Union Sunday school from 2 until 9 P. M. Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited.

Bearly, Lower Merion, who was struck by the automobile of James Quinn, Jenkintown, on January 3, has sued the latter for $25,000 damages through his attorney, H. Lester Haws, Ardmore.

Garage Business Only Sold

The garage and automobile service business recently was sold by H. J. Radasch to R. C. Haines, but the property remains in the ownership of Mr. Kaehler.

Narberth Child Health Center

Now that the city papers are full of news about Baby Clinics, it is well to remind Narberth that she still has an active one herself.

During the six years of the Narberth Child Health Center (1930-1935), 313 sessions have been held, where 5,508 examinations have been made by the best of the Main Line pediatricians. The Center is in charge of the Visiting Nurse from the Health Service of the Community Health and Civic Association. She is assisted by a group of volunteers, who have in these six years given some 3,400 "man hours" to the work. The business of the Center is conducted by a committee, consisting of Dr. Sloan, president of the Narberth Board of Health, Mrs. LaDue, director of the Health Service, and the volunteer workers.

It cannot too often be emphasized that this is a service for well children, up to school age, and for families who cannot, on a limited budget, meet the expense of frequent visits to a doctor for supervision. No treatments or prescriptions are given at the Center: patients are referred to their family doctors, if examinations show defects or possible disease. The only exception is inoculation against diphtheria, which is given for a small fee.

The Center receives its main support from the Board of Health of the borough. A meeting place has been generously provided, first by the Women's Community Club, now by the Bridge Club. Up to 1935, the nurse was paid by the Community Health and Civic Association. Then, because their budget was greatly curtailed by lessened gifts to their supporting bodies, the Red Cross and The Welfare Federation, the Center, with the help of the Community Club and the D. A. R., undertook to pay the nurse and so make this the only self-supporting Center in this region.

To raise the necessary amount for 1936, the Women's Community Club and the Center Volunteers are selling tickets for a movie benefit at the Narberth Theatre, May 11, 12, 14, 15. The pictures on these nights are worth seeing: Monday and Tuesday, "Everybody's Old Man," with Irvin Cobb: Thursday and Friday, "The Country Doctor," with the five famous Dionne sisters. The price is as usual. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. C. A. Farmer or any member of the committee. You are hereby urged to give community support to a community service.

Send the Band to Cleveland

We indorse a candidate.

Yes, only one candidate, the Lower Merion High School State Championship Band, but, of course, that also means the indorsement of 80 "favorite sons."

Just hear the organization and you'll vote for it. And you can hear it if you'll go out to the high school grounds in Ardmore Monday night with fifty cents. The concert will be given on Pennypacker Field if it's warm and fair; in the Junior High School auditorium if the weather is unfavorable.

The purpose of the concert is to raise the second $1,000 of $2,000 needed to make the trip to Cleveland, Ohio, to compete May 15-16 for the honor of being best high school band in the U. S. A.

Proclaims "Perfect Play Perfectly Done"

such a finished and artistic performance. It is no exaggeration to say that had the cast been transferred to Broadway, it would have needed nothing but a little rest, the usual advertisement, the advantage of first-class mounting of the play, to make it indistinguishable from a skilled profession cast.

The leads, Marjorie Topliss as Anne Rogers, and John Flynn as Kenneth Bixby, could not be excelled. Topliss as the devoted and loyal secretary of a writer—had unusual charm to which was added keen intelligence and convincing portrayal. Flynn as the whimsical author, writer, and lecturer, was naturalness itself and he played with the moods of the character like a master. Natalie Fleck as a chambermaid did a good spot of character acting, and the lesser roles, Paul Erskine Brown, a bellboy, George Suplee, a chauffeur, and Stanley Green, a juvenile, were all well cast and adhered to character. Ann Speed as Julie Wilson, the neurotic romantic wife and George Werner as her stolid husband were superb, as were Paul Goodyear as the over-righteous young lawyer, and Joan Tilbury as Julie's solicitious and conventional sister.

I referred at the beginning to several opportunities afforded the audience. The greatest of all was the observation that applies to all human endeavor including acting. A better illustration could not be found of how secondary ability is to reputation in the sum total that the world calls success. Miss Topliss and Mr. Flynn and some of the others showed equal, if not greater, natural talent and trained ability than many artists with formidable reputations.

This smashing hit of the Narberth Players, though local in its sphere of influence, is just another of the many proofs throughout the country, that we have heard so much recently asserted by commentators, that the fate and hope of the legitimate drama lies with "The Little Theatres."

The play was directed by Maurice B. duMarais, whose long experience and skill was apparent in every scene.

The Political Pot

Charles Eugene Claghorn, of Narberth, who was an unsuccessful candidate for Representative in the General Assembly at Tuesday's primary election, desires to thank all those who worked and voted for him, and also to announce that he will support Mr. Lambert Cadwalader, the Republican nominee for Representative, and the entire Rpublican ticket in the fall elections.

Thomas H. Lineaweaver, of Haverford, is slated to remain chairman of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee despite the opposition of the McAvoy-O'Neill faction and some losses in the committee personnel. Already several local borough and township organizations have indorsed him.

With the primaries locally having caused only a ripple on the political sea, leaders of both parties are focussing their attention on the Presidential nominating conventions next month.

The Democratic meeting in Philadelphia is expected to be one not-too-long ovation and indorsement of President Roosevelt and probably also of Vice-President Garner.

The Republicans at Cleveland will have to pick a candidate. Kansas Governor Alfred M. Landon is the favorite at the post, but the race is by no means "in the bag." Chief fear of some Republicans is that the "Old Guard" will control the convention, which, they hold, this year of all years is not the best way to get votes. The more liberal element would put the Progressives to the forefront, some even suggesting that the old-line Democrats be invited into the G. O. P. fold.

Quoting from Montgomery County Republican Delegate Ralph Beaver Strassburger's Norristown Times-Herald: "Mr. Strassburger the day after the primaries issued a statement declaring his opposition to Congressman Bertrand H. Snell for permanent chairman of the convention and added that 'a small group of Old Guard leaders who now control the Republican National Committee are determined at all hazards to control the convention and the party.'"

Old Resident Visits

John H. Schofield, of Philadelphia, visited Narberth Wednesday to pay his respects to Howard Davis, proprietor of Narberth's oldest store, who played on the boro ball team, after Mr. Schofield was its manager. Mr. Schofield, who was the team's pilot in the 90's, lived at that time at the corner of Narberth and Windsor avenues, where Dr. Town now lives. To Gene Davis, present manager of the Narberth team, he extended congratulations and best wishes.

Members of the Penn Valley Garden Club will meet Friday, May 15, at 10 A. M., at All Saints Church, Wynnewood, for a pilgrimage to the Swarthmore Arboretum. They will lunch in Swarthmore. About 20 members are going.

Mrs. Charles K. Ridington, the new president of the Montgomery County Federation of Woman's Clubs, has appointed Mrs. John D. Gill, of Bala-Cynwyd, as chairman of International Relations for Montgomery County.

'The AMATEUR GENTLEMAN'

Lower Merion and Cheltenham staged a beautiful ball game Tuesday afternoon on Pennypacker Field, the former winning in the last inning, when Ray Rider laid down a nice bunt to squeeze in Roy Haley with the lone run of the game. McFillen and Rieger divided the pitching honors for Cheltenham, the duo holding the Maroon team to two hits. On the peak for the Bulldogs was none other than Bill Bassett, a boy with a good curve ball and a high, hard one which lifts the hair on a batsman's head as it cannons by into the catcher's mitt. Big Bill held the visitors to three singles and nary a run during the seven inning game.

This victory is the third in league competition for the local boys. They likewise have lost the same number. Upper Darby, Norristown and Haverford have scored successes, while Abington, Lansdowne and Cheltenham were victims of the Maroon.

Coach Drumm's track team won the Class A track meet at Ursinus College last Saturday, when five of his six relay teams captured first place and the losing quartette came in second. Don Vogts set some kind of a record for the third consecutive week, when he threw the shot a distance of 52 feet, 4 inches, one inch farther than his record heave against Norristown in a dual meet earlier in the week. Lower Merion finished far ahead of Norristown and Upper Darby who were tied for second honors.

The Lower Merion Junior High School relay teams have achieved remarkable success for the past twelve years, winning consistently season after season over the best that the Philadelphia area could offer. This year is likely to be a disappointment, however, for the team is without the services of its ace speed man, Jack Crowley. The fast Bryn Mawr cinder artist has been in the hospital for several weeks, suffering from pneumonia, and will be unable to return to school this year. The boys lost at Bethlehem last Saturday in the annual relays held for the junior high schools of eastern Pennsylvania. The team ran the distance in better time than was expected, but the honors went to West Chester, a team that is particularly fast this season.

The band seems headed to Cleveland for the National Championships. They deserve the opportunity, and everyone should support the project in every way possible so that the boys may have this wonderful trip.

Emily Graham Becomes Bride of D. W. Munro With Father Officiating

Miss Emily McCoy Graham, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Loyal Young Graham, Jr., Newark, N. J., and Mr. Donald William Munro, son of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Munro, and the late Christopher Munro, of Narberth, were united in marriage at Central Presbyterian Church, Newark, N. J., last Friday at 5 P. M., by the father of the bride and pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Rev. Loyal Young Graham, Jr.

The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. John S. Ketcham, of Haverford avenue, Narberth. The maid of honor was Miss Virginia L. Ackor, of Newark. The best man was Mr. Sever H. Rose, of Woodside avenue, Narberth. The ushers, cousins of the bride, were Mr. William S. Ketcham, of Haverford avenue, Narberth, and Mr. George Norris Ketcham, of Frankford, Philadelphia.

The wedding was informal and the bride wore a gown of crushed rose chiffon, trimmed with hand-made rosettes of the same material and a large contrasting hat of brown straw trimmed with roses to match the dress. She carried an arm bouquet of peach African daisies, peach snapdragons, blue lace, light-blue iris, tied with light-blue ribbon. Her traveling costume was a swagger coat over a dress of aqua print with brown accessories.

The maid of honor's gown, was aqua crepe and her accessories were large navy-blue straw hat (flower trimmed) and navy-blue shoes. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses, yellow daisies and yellow snapdragons, tied with yellow ribbon.

Few Cultural Problems With Vigorous Snapdragons

Many beautiful flowers are handicapped by a delicate constitution which prevents their wide use, but snapdragons, or antirrhinums, are not one of them. On the contrary they are one of the healthiest and most vigorous annual flowers, and will respond to good treatment with a blaze of color that is equaled by few other flowers.

Being an old flower which we knew well in grandmother's garden, we are inclined to think of it as old-fashioned, but this is not its true status. The flower is old to be sure, but the modern strains are so entirely new and different, and take so many shapes, sizes and colors that it is almost a new flower. Today we can buy the dwarf strains which grow only 8 inches tall, or the large flowering types which reach over 36 inches

Snapdragons are slow to germinate, and one must be careful in sowing them to mark out their location, so they will not be disturbed. At first they give little indication of the size they will eventually attain, but in the last stages of growth they will perk up with amazing speed.

They like rich soil and liberal moisture as well as the full sun. Many of the tall types might well be staked when they rise over 18 inches.

Beautiful effects are produced by growing the giant sorts, pinching out the tops when they are about 6 or 8 inches tall, staking them firmly, whereupon they branch freely and make a bush 2 feet through, and about the same height covered with spikes of bloom. The spikes are not of the length or size that would be produced if the plant were allowed to grow naturally and devote its strength to the one long spike of giant flower such as the florists grow.

The snaps have a wide range of light colors, with the pinks favorites and the yellows and flame colored ones next in demand. To get them in bloom earlier, they might well be started indoors or in the cold frame, although this is not at all necessary.

IS YOUR CHILD SAFE FROM DIPHTHERIA?

Diphtheria prevention is effective. Wherever a city has conducted an intensive campaign to have children protected against diphtheria, the results have been excellent. The city of Yonkers, N. Y., in 1927 had 438 cases of diphtheria and 23 deaths. Then a yearly Diphtheria Prevention Campaign was undertaken. In 1930 there were 20 cases of diphtheria and 1 death. In New York City, the 1930 campaign resulted in 4,458 fewer cases and 305 fewer deaths than the average for the six previous years. Philadelphia had 3,887 cases in 1925; in 1934 there were only 206 cases with only 22 deaths. In the 5 years, 1925-1929, Lower Merion Township had 141 cases with 6 deaths; in the 5 years, 1930-1934, there were 50 cases with 2 deaths. In 1935 there were only 8 cases and no deaths. Yet the population of Lower Merion Township has steadily increased, through these years.

All these splendid results were obtained by immunizing only part of the children. If every child were given protection, diphtheria would be wiped out in the community. To reach this goal, we must protect each year's crop of infants. Therefore, Lower Merion Township will campaign against diphtheria every year. Help the Board of Health rid our township of this disease. Protect your child now. See your family doctor. Watch this paper for more information.

L. M. Building Hits Million Mark In 4 Months; Doubles 1935 Figure

Permits for more than a million dollars worth of building have been granted in Lower Merion Township during the first third of 1936.

The figure, $1,035,610, is over twice that for the first four months of 1935, which was $513,342.

April permits for work amounted to $376,286 as compared to $195,570 in April, 1935.

April's 130 permits included 47 in Ardmore, 24 in the Bala-Cynwyd-Pencoyd section, 17 in Bryn Mawr and Rosemont, 15 in the General Wayne or Penn Valley district, 6 in Haverford, 13 in Merion and 8 in Merion Square.

Eighteen April permits were for dwellings to cost an estimated $248,986, five for private garages totaling $6,865, and 75 for oil-burning equipment at an estimated gross figure of $41,311.

The largest single item of $50,000 was for a tunnel.

In Haverford Township, building during the first third of 1936 amounts to $366,871, with 63 permits in April for a total estimated at $254,976 including 31 residence buildings. The four-month increase over 1935 is $222,328.

Fauntleroy, Irvin Cobb and Dionnes at Narberth

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" is at the Narberth Theatre charming hearts of young and old as they have been charmed ever since Frances Hodgson Burnett's novel was first published. With rare artistry the screen has captured the story's spirit and added with beautiful photography the English wide spaces of tree-shaded parks and the magnificence of the castle. Cast includes Freddie Bartholomew, Dolores Costello Barrymore, C. Aubrey Smith, Guy Kibbee, Mickey Rooney and Henry Stephenson. Also on the program is "Mickey Mouse's Polo Team."

Monday and Tuesday, Narberth will present Irvin S. Cobb—who starred with Will Rogers in "Steamboat Round the Bend"—in "Everybody's Old Man." The noted humorist injects warmth into the character of a canned-goods king who at sixty-odd takes a new lease on life when he brings order into the conduct and business of his deceased rival's children. Rochelle Hudson, Norman Foster and Johnny Downs add to the pleasant characterizations.

Added Monday and Tuesday is "The March of Time," telling of Florida's canal, dog field trials, arson and "Veterans of Future Wars."

Wednesday, James Cagney is coming in "The Frisco Kid," and the usual cash award will be made at nine.

The rest of the week the Dionne Quintuplets and Jean Hersholt as Dr. Dafoe will delight everyone who likes babies in "The Country Doctor." A Silly Symphony will appear on the program, "Cock of the Walk."

Egyptian Has Stevenson Thriller: Mother's Day Monday: "Trail" Co...

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is—are—at the Egyptian. This is a new release of the film in which Fredric March and Miriam Hopkins gave superbly realistic performances of Robert Louis Stevenson's keenly exciting story.

"Primitive Pitcairn." Fitzpatrick Travelta.k on the current program will interest readers of "Mutiny on the Bounty," etc.

For Saturday's 2.15 matinee, the feature will be Zane Grey's "Home on the Range," with Jackie Coogan and Randolph Scott—an exceptionally well-screened story of the West.

All mothers—past, present and future, according to an ad alsewhere in this issue—are invited to be guests of Showman Conway at the Egyptian next Monday in celebration of Mother's Day. The film Monday and Tuesday is "Next Time We Love," poignantly beautiful story starring Margaret Sullavan. Also on the program is "Hit-and-Run Driver" in the dramatic and interesting series of "Crime Doesn't Pay," sponsored by the National Safety Council.

"Petticoat Fever" Wednesday and Bank Night Thursday features Robert Montgomery, Labrador wireless operator, suffering from petticoat fever, and Reginald Owen and Myrna Loy, whose plane crashes on the ice nearby. Definitely good entertainment is provided because of clever dialogue, excellent cast and good direction.

Concluding the week, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," from the novel by John Fox, Jr., screened exquisitely in technicolor. The exciting story of the feud between the Tollivers and Falins is convincingly acted by a brilliant cast, which includes Fred MacMurray, Henry Fonda, Fred Stone, Sylvia Sidney, Spanky McFarland and Nigel Bruce.

The public is cordially invited.

TRAVELLING ON THE SCHUYLKILL
The Schuylkill River was a natural course for travellers of an earlier day to follow, to and from Philadelphia. A waterway built by nature, it was millions of years under construction. Its path between steep hills and rocky gorges has been carved out by the action of the water.
Primitive roads forced early settlers around Philadelphia to use this river for transportation. They improved it with dams and canals . . . and transported their goods and chattels on canal boats.
As many as two hundred boats passed up and down the river weekly. Before 1825 some of these were propelled by man power . . . two men attached to long lines trod the banks of the river drawing boats. Later horses were used, and regular towpaths laid out.
Although the Schuylkill cuts Suburban Philadelphia in two, it has aided travel along its course. But it has always hindered crosswise travel.
Transportation of water across the Schuylkill is one of the problems the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company has solved successfully.

Record Non-Fiction Demand Continues at Boro Library

The Narberth Community Library once again has broken all its previous records in the circulation of adult non-fiction books. This record breaking began in September, with a monthly circulation of 800 non-fiction. October's record was 848, and November, 900. March has brought a new record of 911, and the daily average for April so far has equaled that of March.

The library's Administration Committee, whose duty it is, with the librarian, to select new adult books, have kept this present trend of the reading public in mind. Forty-six per cent of the books purchased since September have been non-fiction.

One of the most popular books of the year was Mrs. Lindbergh's "North to the Orient"; another, Stefan Zweig's "Mary, Queen of Scotland." At the present time Negley Farson's "Way of a Transgressor" holds first place among non-fiction books.

Approximately two-thirds of the annual allotment for children's books was spent for this type of reading material. For, according to the 1935 circulation figures, the youngest readers, too, are finding biographies and travel books of interest. Poetry collections especially have been hard to find "in." Some of this fondness for poetry can be attributed to school assignments, but there are a number who find verse attractive for pleasure reading. Plays and handicraft books are also in demand.

Players Elect May 19

The Narberth Players will elect officers Tuesday evening, May 19, in the Narberth School auditorium, at 8.30.

The Entertainment Committee will present a play in which the junior members will take part.

Following there will be a social hour with refreshments.

Organized by the Main Line Lions Club, invitations have been sent to the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth, Ardmore and Paoli-Malvern Rotary Clubs, the Main Line Kiwanis Club and the Wayne and Marple-Newton Lions Clubs for a joint tournament and dinner to be held at the Bala Golf course next Thursday.

Court Allows Merger Case Costs, But Denies Expenses

President Harold G. Knight, of the Montgomery County Court, has approved court costs in connection with the hearing on the Narberth case in January, but denied all expenses incurred by the Narberth Home Rule Committee incurred in fighting the merger proposal.

The total bill of costs and expenses incident to the original hearing, presented by Roland Fleer, of Woodside avenue, Narberth, counsel for the Home Rule group, amounted to $1,076.96.

Costs approved by the court, estimated at $200, included witness fees, mileage for witnesses, subpoenas and the cost of serving them.

Other expenses of the Home Rule Committee which were not allowed included mimeographing, printing, postage and advertising.

The merger petition, seeking the annulment of the Narberth Borough Charter and its return to Lower Merion Township, was withdrawn by Franklin L. Wright, attorney for the petitioners, when it was brought out at the hearing that the petition contained forged and fraudulent names.

Special Trains Bringing Thousands to Bryn Mawr for May Day Fete

Thousands of visitors, descending from motors, airplanes and special trains, will witness the ninth May Day at Bryn Mawr College this Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Historically authentic to the last minute detail, the fete, because of the preparation entailed, can be given once only every four years. Artistically conceived, the great pageant of seven hundred and fifty revelers in costumes of the English Renaissance, will unfold a four-hour program of dances, May games and eight old Elizabethan plays.

For the present fete the beneficiary will be the Fiftieth Anniversary Fund for a minimum of one million dollars. Alumnae throughout the country are applying themselves zealously to the task of filling the special trains that, by arrangement with the Pennsylvania Railroad, are converging upon Bryn Mawr from Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, Washington, Baltimore, Wilmington and other points. A special train will be run between Bryn Mawr and New York tomorrow.

Rubinoff Holds World Record for Broadcasting

Rubinoff and his violin—and Chevrolet—are a combination that few, if any, radio listeners in the United States have not received in their homes via the air. The famous violinist and his Stradivarius, stars of the Chevrolet Musical Moments programs, have the distinction of going on the air from more broadcasting stations than any other program in the history of radio. Three hundred and seventy-eight stations broadcast Rubinoff three times a week, a total of 1134 fifteen-minute programs. That figures out at 283 hours, and if one week's programs were broadcast one after the other, day and night, it would require 11 days. The illustration shows Rubinoff, carrying his precious violin, posing with his car after a special appearance at Detroit.
